Canadians Can't Get U.S. Visas

Suspension Rule 'Alien' Category Covers Canadians

Washington, Oct. 12.—(CP)—United States officials today were ordered to suspend temporarily passport visas issued to aliens—including Canadians—planning to come to the United States.

The suspension order went out to U.S. officials all over the world in a move to permit a recheck of individual records because of the tight new internal-security law.

It does not apply to official representatives of foreign governments.

It does not affect Canadians coming to the United States on visas, since they do not have to have visas. But it does apply to Canadians coming as immigrants since they must have passports and visas.

OTTAWA DIFFERS

In Ottawa officials of the external affairs department said the suspension does not apply to Canadians. They said visas needed for long-term trips to U.S. would not be held up by the order. Officials also said the order, which went to embassies and consulates all over the world, was not received at Ottawa.

Canadians need a visa if their visit to the U.S. is for more than six months. In cases of shorter visits the visa is not necessary.

The internal-security law, enacted over President Truman's veto, bars the entry of aliens who have been at any time members of the Communist or "other totalitarian" parties.

Vital Base Is Vacated

SAIGON, Ind. China, Oct. 12.—(AP)—The French today announced their withdrawal from the former key Vietminh base of Thai Nguyen, in North Indo-China, which they seized less than two weeks ago.

A French military spokesman said the withdrawal had been made voluntarily, without any Vietminh pressure, to a new defence line about 15 miles south of Thai Nguyen.

The spokesman explained that about 40 miles south of Hanoi and the centre of a large area of fertile rice lands, had been occupied by Vietminh forces. Vietminh installations in the area that had been accomplished, he declared.

However, AP correspondent Kenneth Ellis reported in a detailed dispatch from Hanoi yesterday after accompanying French forces operating in the area that the French had planned to make Thai Nguyen the anchor fortification for a series of 30 brick fortresses guarding the area.

LESS BEER FOR YOUR MONEY IS PLANNED

A smaller ten cent glass of beer, and a two-cent increase in retail price of bottled beer sold here today for Edmonton beverage room patrons.

It was strongly rumored the price hike would go into effect early next week with hotlines reported waiting the signing of an order-in-council by Premier Z. C. Manning.

They said the new deal in beer sold through beer parlors would mean a complete re-stocking of a new glass.

Bottled beer sold in the beer parlors would rise from 25 to 27 cents a bottle while the price of the six ounces of beer now served in eight-ounce glasses, was not suggested.

The report here followed earlier reports from Calgary that the price change might go into effect Monday.

Early Start Planned On New Theatre Here

Early start on construction of a new moving picture theatre in downtown Edmonton, seating 1,500, was announced here today by division manager E. A. Zorn of Famous Players Corp.

Mr. Zorn said that a call for tenders will go out immediately. He hopes that a start on construction of the theatre, between 100 and 106 streets, will be made in the next few weeks and work continued through the winter months.

Start on the new theatre, to be known as the Paramount, has been delayed because of minor changes in plans for the building.

WOULD MAKE 7 HERE

Completion of the new theatre would bring the number of Famous Players movie houses in Edmonton up to seven.

These now in operation are: Capitol, Strand, Garnet, Dreamland, Princess and Empress.

Mr. Zorn is conferring here on plans for the theatre with Walter Wilson, manager of the Capitol, and other Famous Players theatre executives in Edmonton.

Head offices of the division manager are in Winnipeg.

Navies, Including Canadian, Bombard Vita Red Centre

By EARNEST HOBRECHT Special to The Bulletin

TOKYO, Oct. 12.—(UP)—The big guns of an allied naval task force, led by the giant U.S. battleship Missouri, have pulverized the Communist industrial centre of Chongqing, only 49 miles from Russia.

The bombardment started Tuesday night when Gen. Douglas MacArthur was preparing another hit which might shorten the war considerably.

The main batteries of American, British and Canadian cruisers and destroyers hunked up the 16-inch guns of the "Big Mo" in the bombardment. Five hundred tons of high explosive were hurled into the city by the raiding force.

Chongqing, a city of 190,000, is one of Communist Korea's main industrial centres.

NEAR RUSSIA

It lies only 34 miles from Manchuria border city of Hsiao Yang and 120 miles from the great Soviet Far Eastern base of Vladivostok.

The fleet which attacked Chongqing included the U.S. cruiser Helena and Worcester, the British Cruiser City, unidentifiable American aircraft carriers and a number of American, British and Canadian destroyers.

Socreds Pick Fred Niddrie As Candidate

A 56-year-old Mound district farmer, Fred Niddrie will be Social Credit party candidate in the Nov. 16 provincial by-election at Oids.

Mr. Niddrie won the nomination at a jammed constituency convention attended by more than 100 voting delegates at Oids last night.

Three ballots were required to select the candidate. Widow of the Social Credit MLA, Norman K. Cook who represented the constituency until his death this summer, was eliminated on the first ballot, together with H. E. Morris, a Bowden.

A second ballot eliminated C. M. Carter of Torrington, and Mr. Niddrie won over E. P. Foster of Three Hills on the final ballot. Mr. Foster represented the Didsbury constituency in the first Social Credit legislation.

The Nov. 16 by-election will mark the Social Credit party's first test of strength since the 1948 provincial election.

Mr. Niddrie has been active in municipal council work in the Oids district for about 14 years, and is a member of the municipal council of Mountriville.

He is a former vice-president of the Central Alberta municipal councilors, and is an executive member of the Oids constituency association.

Painting which John J. Pringle, Jr. got free from his grandmother may turn out to be of great value.

J. A. Harder of Hodgeville, W. Va., who was hired to clean a canvas, said the painting was "unquestionably" the work of the famed Renaissance artist, Raphael.

Case of the pearl-eating thoroughbred continued, held in federal jury at Philadelphia.

The horse grabbed down 68 of a string of 311 pearls scattered from the hand of social-party-goer Mrs. Elizabeth Gerhardt as she leaned against a pedestal. Mrs. Gerhardt grabbed most of them back.

Jury was asked to decide whether the Boston Insurance Company should pay $50,000, the insurance on the necklace or $800, the amount the firm maintained would be the cost of replacing the missing pearls.

World

Thousands of persons in France's second largest city Marseilles had to wait for a bus when a four-hour strike tied up the city's transport.

The strike, by bus and street car workers, was in sympathy with Communist-led demonstrations from La Beca, near Cannes, now on trial charged with attempting to prevent the capture of a train loaded with war material.

In a group resignation, Holland's defense minister and his staff-secretaries for war and the navy have asked to be relieved of their jobs.

Pipeline Okay Expected Before Six Months Over

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 12.—(BUP)—The Pacific North West Pipe Line Corporation expects to have permission to build a gas line from Texas to the U.S. Pacific Northwest region "within six months," B. R. Herring, company president, said in Calgary today.

Testifying before the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board, the Houston, Texas, official said his company's application was now before the U.S. Federal Power Commission, and "current expectations" were that a go-ahead would be granted "some time between now and next April."

He said the line would supply about three and a half million barrels of gas a year to the Pacific Northwest.

BEFORE BOARD

Herring appeared before the board to support the application of the Prairie Pipe Line Ltd. to export Alberta gas to the Pacific Northwest.

Line and Prairie Transmission Ltd. were originally formed in Canada, but later taken over by the Pacific Northwest Corporation.

"Gas permitted to move out of Alberta via the pipe line would flow into the line from Texas and be delivered in British Columbia," Herring said. "Any Alberta gas not consumed on the Canadian west coast would be used in the U.S. Pacific Northwest."

Prarie Pipe Lines and Prairie Transmission went to take one hundred million cubic feet per day out of Alberta, he said.

Holowach was killed when the tractor he was driving overturned, pinning him beneath it. Coroner G. H. Whitmore said no inquest was necessary.

He is survived by his widow, three daughters, Mae of Calgary, Stella of Trochu and Neale of Hume, and a son, Fred.

The rockslide that killed Holowach occurred at his West Canadian Collieries mine in the Crown Pass, Workmen dug in the rock and cut for five hours before recovering the body.

Coroner F. S. Radford called an inquest to be held in Blairmore Friday.

Rhodes was president of the Bellevue Club, United Mine Workers of America, and a member of the Bellevue-Hillcrest School Board. He leaves his widow and eight children.

JUST STARTED JOB

Lapine, who was working with an oil-drilling outfit owned by Hanna Bros. of Lloydminster, was killed in an accident at 1:45 a.m. today. He had been with the crew only a short time. The cause of the accident was not immediately available.

A coroner's jury was empaneled but adjourned after viewing the body and inspecting the derrick at the scene of the accident.

Frank Takah, a farm laborer employed by Edward Potbury, Leduc farmer, died Wednesday. RCMP state Takah was feeding horses in Potbury's barn when he suffered a heart attack. The body was marked with bones' houses, but it is believed he was dead before he was stepped on by the horse.

Dr. M. C. Cantel viewed the body and decided no inquest was necessary.

Liquor Laws Hit
By AFL Meeting

Convention Terms Present
Legislation Is 'Antiquated'

The Alberta Federation of Labor took another swipe at what it called Alberta's "antiquated liquor laws" yesterday.

In a resolution approved as the federation's three-day convention drew to a close, the labor organization decided to approach the provincial government on the subject of "opening the Liquor Act" to representatives of the federation showing time worked rate of pay, overtime and all deductions, each pay period.

The resolution noted the same principle should operate as in the procedure followed with relation to "challenges" the provincial government's right to discriminate against Edmonton and Calgary in the banning of saloons and taverns in the two cities.

Employers of the province also came in for some criticism as the convention drew to a heated close.

Most strongly worded resolution in a list pointed at changes in Alberta Labor Act and social legislation was one asking for more Board of Industrial Relations inspectors so that workers in practically all parts of the province may receive protection from rapacious employers who have no compunction in exploiting their employees.

Also endorsed by the final count of 115 delegates were resolutions recommending the federation press for:

1. Reinstatement of price controls on basic foodstuffs and essential commodities of the Price Control Board.

2. Employment of every means to prevent the domination of public utility, in Alberta.

3. Elimination of the "split shift" in any industry.

4. Establishment of a new scale of pensions to widows and dependents to be based on 75 per cent of the minimum wage of 15 cents an hour or $142.80 for a 36-day working month, as requested by the federation.

5. Strengthening of sub-section 3 of section 59 of the Alberta Labor Act to prevent employers from "borrowing or otherwise procuring employees who have been engaged in the industry for the required time from one shop for purpose of voting against management for another shop."

6. A section under the Labor Act requiring employers to furnish each employee with a pay lets for beer were on a "strict quota" and that manufacturers were not allowed "competitive advertising," thus ruling out the free enterprise angle.

"The government sets the price. It even decides on the glasses beer is served in—and how they should be washed," said one speaker.

BOILER REGULATIONS

Charge was made that management of many processing plants in Alberta were "deliberately" letting steam used in manufacturing to go below 20 pounds per square inch and discharging qualified engineers.

Speaking to a resolution, J. E. Smith, president of prairie brewing workers federation said provincial law requiring retention of a qualified engineer if steam pressure in a plant is over the 20 pounds per square inch.

Other speakers said supervision of boilers by unqualified men had led to fatal accidents and the "blowing out" of a plant from a Calgary refinery.

They claimed operation of boilers by unqualified personnel prevented in the oil industry of Alberta and in plants needing heat rather than high pressure for their operation.

The resolution calling for federal action to implement an amendment to the "Boiler Act" enforcing employment of certified engineers in plants having in excess of 250 square feet of heating surface was referred to the federation executive.

Civic Workers

Spring Surprise

Civic workers of Alberta strung a surprise yesterday when they announced in Edmonton the formation of a brand new "Alberta Joint Council of Civic Employees."

Its formation coincides with resolutions endorsed by the Alberta Federation of Labor convention yesterday and calling for opposition to "any move" calculated to move civic workers from jurisdiction of the Alberta Labor Act.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Official casualty listings in the short time war yesterday rose to 24,163 Americans killed, wounded and missing, in action. The total, as announced by the defense department, cited 3,614 dead, 16,238 wounded and 4,290 missing.

That's Common Sense

There is sound common sense behind the demand of Alderman Armour Ford for a report on the police department, giving a complete breakdown of police activities in this city.

Like the majority of citizens, Alderman Ford is apparently fed up to the teeth with the manner in which Chief Constable Jennings' request, last July, for 35 more men has been treated.

Like most citizens, it seems he can see little sense in building up the force piecemeal and bit by bit after the chief has stated plainly that the minimum requirement to bring the department to adequate strength is 35 new men.

Therefore he wants full statement on just what the force is doing, how many city blocks a constable must cover, how many men are on traffic duty and exactly what is needed to give proper protection to Edmonton.

That's exactly what the citizens want to know too.

Such a detailed report would have been quite unnecessary had the chief constable's former report, prepared in June, presented to the mayor in July and then cleared around for months, been accepted and acted upon promptly as it should have been.

In Edmonton citizens, presumably including members of council, have every concern.

The privilege of drinking beer together in these places was originally withdrawn by the government at the request of the hotel owners, presumably because beer parlors threatened to become houses of prostitution.

Double the intentions of both the government and the hotel owners were commendable in the sense that they both wanted clean and well-ordered premises.

Nevertheless it was a small tribute to the ability of the proprietors themselves to order when they applied to the government for a license to sell beer without assuming responsibility of maintaining decent conditions by their own efforts.

However, that it will pass and go on. The point is that Edmonton and Calgary both have an iniquitous rule regarding mixed drinking and most people want to get rid of it.

It is the general experience that the separation of the sexes for the purpose of drinking beer has not resulted in more orderly conditions.

On the contrary, many of the men's Gas and Oil Sales in a Mess

The city council has set up so much machinery, some of which it has itself forgotten, to deal with the sale of oil and gas that it is still paying attention to what Sunday and holiday and after midnight service to cars and trucks has fallen into what can only be described as a mess.

For instance, there is the case of the station in Calder which can stay open on Saturdays and holidays to give service but on those days it cannot sell a gallon of gas.

What station can afford to give tow service without selling gas and oil?

The truth is that there has been far too much city interference with a business that must operate, like hotels and restaurants, on a seven-day, 24-hour basis to be efficient at all.

Instead of passing the buck back to the commissioners on this matter, the council should take just one action:

It should remove barriers to all stations that prevent them serving the public wherever there is a demand for gas.

The only legislation required is a bylaw compelling a station that decides to keep open to stay open for at least a year so that motorists who stand by their cars from one Sunday to the next.

By Harold L. Weir

negated to stop for pedestrians at intersections.

The habit of cars and trucks of running through red and yellow lights on downtown corners is so common that everybody, except politicians, sees it.

Instances of it every day. Last week when the red-light runner went into effect, I saw five vehicles in succession make a left turn on the former intersection.

And there wasn't a cop in sight to check on them.

So far as stopping for pedestrians on corners is concerned, I have only seen it done twice since the regulation went into effect.

Motorsists simply won't do it until they learn by experience that failure to stop means a sure and substantial fine.

Consider, for instance, the intersection in front of the edifice where the laughing gas plant is where I work.

Everytime a Bulletin employee crosses the street for a little assistance, he or she takes his life in his own hands.

The value of a reporter's or editor's life is of course, debatable. But it would be nice if it were not so often sacrificed to the waiting for twenty or thirty cars or trucks to lumber by.

I myself have seen several newspaper drivers whizzing along when the pedestrian would dare to step out into the street.

Now this disregard for pedestrians and traffic laws would be perfectly all right under any circumstances. But it is even worse when one observes that it is not nearly so flagrant in some of our cities.

I have in mind, particularly, Vancouver and Seattle because they have recently achieved in traffic signs and the motorists'.

confidence in Chief Jennings' capacity and judgment.

But the matter has been bungled so long that the entire police situation is in a state of lamentable confusion.

Mayor Parsons has pulled out of the mayor's hat a policy originating heaven knows where, that Chief Jennings, in spite of his considered opinion that he definitely and urgently needs 35 new men, must take on just a few at a time and, if these are not enough, he must keep coming back for more.

It sounds more like someone passing the cake at a children's party than an attempt to secure efficient police protection for a city.

But there it is. And Alderman Ford, honestly confused, as everyone else is, wants every last detail of police operation written out in black and white.

It is too bad the police situation had come to this.

It is too bad Chief Jennings' midsummer report could not have had intelligent and immediate attention.

But Alderman Ford has, at least, cleared the air.

His demand is an invitation to the chief constable to spell it out.

The administration has made it apparent in the past months that it needs a lot of things spelled out.

In the first place, the ban is not an affront to all decent women who are not fanatics.

In the second place, the ban on mixed drinking in Edmonton and Calgary represents a double standard of morality in the province.

If mixed drinking is considered proper in small towns with beer parlors, particularly in places which get such a large influx of Edmonton and Calgary's trade, it should be considered proper everywhere.

If it is wrong in Edmonton and Calgary, it should be banned everywhere.

In the third place, prohibition of mixed drinking in these two cities, serving absolutely no apparent purpose that we can see, drives the majority of tourists, it makes Edmonton and Calgary the laughing stock of the continent.

parlors have become more riotous than ever because the ordinarily restraining effect of woman's presence is lacking.

The ban was requested and granted on the vicious assumption that only the lawless of women drank beer in public.

This is sheer insulting nonsense. Thousands of thoroughly respectable women drink beer in public without notably diminishing their sobriety nor jeopardizing their chastity.

Regardless of the amount of women going to a dance, it is an important factor for the propriety of the country, and a necessity for the real welfare of the province that he should be allowed to work.

A person may be justly retired from his duties at 60, but at once forced to undertake the heavier responsibilities of maintaining a home by his retirement.

Perhaps many so-called non-possibilities could earn a living if there was not so much opposition to their doing so.

Extensive part of the population of a country has never yet increased prosperity, although that is the province of industry and government.

Happier Old Age

Editor, Bulletin—That activity in old age promotes better health has been common knowledge as long as I can remember, and it is a good long time. Healthier old people would save the government a heavy part of present welfare costs.

Regardless of the amount of pension given, it is an important factor for the propriety of the country, and a necessity for the real welfare of the province that he should be allowed to work.

China Trade

Editor, Bulletin—In view of the vast demands of China for lumber, machinery, cement, pulp, etc., it is not surprising Canada does not enter into this trade. European exporters are participating in this business in a big way. It is verified by exports into China from Hong Kong exceeding all previous records.

Someone should explain why Vancouver, the nearest Canadian port to China, should be indifferent about establishing contact and obtaining a share of this commerce.

After writing about this subject for some time, I remembered the hair of a young man who had been a young man. He was a young man. He was a young man. He was a young man.

Jack Scott

The Broader View Of Canadian Radio

(Columnist Jack Scott is on a cross-Canada tour with his family in automobile and trailer—EDITOR.)

From time to time in the past I have had some things to say about Canada's commercial or "independent" radio stations. This comment is not intended to offend, since it was based largely on monitoring western stations.

Now I've had a chance to listen to these voices across the land and to discover how I was in accusing them of catering to customers with the minds of a child.

I find that, taken on a national scale, I was approximately four years too late and that commercial or "love-That Soap" radio in Canada is just about perfect in tune with a mentality of 10 years.

I say this without fear of contradiction, as the saying goes, because for the past four months I have been in almost constant contact with a well-developed, fully-matured 10-year-old mind; indeed, my very favorite of all.

10-Year-Old Mind In Action

This 10-year-old mind reveals at the thought of the CBC. It commands a groan and a plea to switch the dial, when there's a commercial, a symphony, a talk, a play, a program of genuine jazz, a news, an actuality or a Canadian War. It tolerates the CBC for the Happy Gang and its soap operas and very little else.

But this 10-year-old mind (and a splendid one it is, too) loves commercial radio. It yearns to get out of the house and go to the movies, to win a prize, to win a prize, to win a prize.

It has an insatiable appetite for western music or as we call it, Vaughn Munroe or Spike Jones. It can hear "Goodnight, Beulah" 40 times a day and want more. It loves the labored jokes and whymy of local announcers.

POPULAR COMEDIANS Bud Abbott and Lou Costello return to Rialto Friday after year's absence, to provide laughs against background of French Foreign Legion in Universal-International's newest comedy, "Abbott and Costello in Foreign Legion." Heading film's large supporting cast is shapely Patricia Medina, popular comedienne in recent laugh film, "Francis."

Abbott and Costello Back In Foreign Legion Comedy

Back on the screen for the first time in a year, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello prove that they still are America's comedy kings in "Abbott and Costello in the Foreign Legion," which begins Friday at the Rialto Theatre.

The Foreign Legion film offers a perfect background for the antics of the zany comedians. They are constantly in trouble, either with their sergeant, the commandant or enemy Arabs.

Somehow they always manage to pull themselves out of their difficulties.

Highlight of the movie is when they accidentally stumble into a slave market and wind up buying six beautiful girls, including shapely Patricia Medina, without even knowing they have been bidding for them.

The picture begins in America with Bud and Lou in the roles of as a French secret agent in his picture.

Other top-notch performances are turned in by Walter Sussak in the role of a traitorous Foreign Legion sergeant, Douglas Dumbrille as an Arab sheik, Fred Nurey as the Legion commandant and Wee Willie Davies as the particular wrestler.

HEROES AT LAST

In Algeria they are doped into joining the Legion and that's where their troubles really begin, but, as you might expect, they wind up heroes in the end.

Dark-haired beauty, Patricia Medina, who was last seen in "Francis," gives an outstanding performance as a French secret agent in his picture.

CINCINNATI (SP)—The Reds ace pitcher, Ewell Blackwell, got his start in LaVerne, California, but as a basketball star. He won a basketball scholarship at the University of California but quit after a year.

Selling Job For Jaycees

The 30,000-member Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce is "looking for 30,000 salesmen to go out and sell Canada to Canadians." This is the message brought to Edmonton Jaycees Wednesday by Forbes Rankin, Winnipeg, president.

"It looks as if we need it," he said. "We have been missing the boat."

"Let's start shouting about Canada. Let's have some action now."

JOB AT HAND

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce is looking to us to develop tourism. It has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars fighting the battle to maintain free enterprise and fighting subversive groups.

"Yet at the annual meeting one member said it had all gone down the drain because they had not sold democracy in their own business."

"There is too much complacency among Jaycees and among the government campaign would 'kindle a spark in the whole people.' It will start with a special 'week,' January 21 to 27.

"We are not going political," the president said. "But we are concerned with responsible municipal government."

Utilities Surplus Still Tops 1949

But Only One Shows Better Surplus During August

Although the August surplus on operation of Edmonton's five civic utilities was about half the August, 1949, figure, the accumulated surplus for 1950 is more than 40 per cent higher than last year's.

During August the surplus was $40,732, against $27,500 in the same month last year, according to figures released today by City Controller Fred Henderson.

Accumulated surplus in 1950 is $903,831, an increase of $303,711 from the $600,120 piled up during the first eight months of 1949.

Edmonton Transit System would add August operations with a deficit of $14,207, altogether over the whole eight-month period it still would show a 170 miles east of the water.

WATER SURPLUS

Only the waterworks department showed a higher surplus in August than in the same month last year: it recorded $20,475 to the good, against $12,790 in August, 1949.

Electric Light department had an August surplus of $9,218, against an August, 1949, surplus of $23,013.

Power plant surplus was $25,600, against $27,776.

Telephone department surplus was $3,997, against $24,907.

DON'T WIVES HAVE SENSE OF SMELL?

LONDON, Oct. 12.—(Reuters)—A never-fail method of getting better stains off your clothes before going home to the wife was described here yesterday.

The secret is—rainwater and a little something extra.

So says John Taylor, 30-year-old editor of "Tailor and Cutter," the magazine in which all well-dressed men look for the latest in style and fashion.

Taylor writes in his current issue: "Add one pint of rainwater to a mixture of one tablespoonful of oxalic acid. Saturate the stain with cold water, then with the solution, afterwards rinse in cold water."

Two Hospitals In City Undergoing Additions

Two of Edmonton's hospitals are undergoing facelift operations. Work starts today at University hospital on a $40,000 addition to the front of the building which will permit patients to be admitted from street level.

The new addition, which will extend out to the edge of the driveway, will have steps going down to the basement admitting section and up to the ground floor level.

At the Misericordia hospital, work is under way on a four-story addition to the front of the building which will provide similarly improved admitting facilities and office space.

The University addition is part of the $200,000 expansion of the main hospital, which will add 350 beds.

IT'S TAPS—thousands of 'em—for steel and rivets in huge Macdonald hotel extension steel frame, now near completion. Frank Mankin, steel tapper for coast Testing Laboratories, travels from top to bottom of big extension searching out defective rivets and fractured steel beams. Vibration in hammer handle tells Frank if rivets are loose.

Mankin Detects Flaw Just By Glance At Rivet

By Jack DeLong

A pleasant little Englishman could make the steel contractors tear down the towering Macdonald hotel extension

His name is Frank Mankin and his job is to verify to the Canadian National Railways that the huge mountain of steel, now nearing completion, has been well and truly raised.

Mankin's official title is steel inspector for Coast Testing Laboratories of Vancouver. He's been at this work for 32 years.

There's no danger of Mankin turning down the Macdonald extension job.

He says it's close to perfect. There's just one eighth of an inch less to the northeast. The builders are allowed one inch in a building of that height.

RIVETS INSPECTED
Mankin can tell by just looking at a rivet whether it's light or loose.

If there's any doubt a light tap from his tiny hammer will give him the answer.

And it isn't the sound of the hammer stroke that tells Mankin the story.

A broken or burned rivet gives off a vibration when struck even a light blow.

"The untrained person would never notice it," Mankin said.

ALBERTA'S TALLEST
Mankin gave some interesting facts about the Macdonald extension.

It is Alberta's tallest building. From basement to the top of the pent house on the southern side it is 18 stories. In actual practice it does not count the ground and mezzanine floors as stories. It is 215 feet from basement to penthouse roof.

There are 2,064 tons of steel in the extension. Steel is main columns in three inches thick and weighs 48 pounds in the foot.

BRIDGES HARDER
Like most steel men Mankin thinks he's far safer walking a girder 18 stories above Jasper Avenue than crossing that same Jasper Avenue at street level.

"You could walk the curb on Jasper from 91 street to 109 street and never give it a thought. The girders on the Mac are a lot wider than the curb," he said.

Bridge work is much more exacting than steel frames on buildings, he says.

Before coming to Canada three years ago, Mankin was employed by the British Ministry of works and buildings.

During the last war he was senior examiner of aeronautical inspection.

Oil, Gas, Freight Worry Coal Heads

New Coal Federation Claims Stiff Problems Face Industry

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—(CP)—Western Canada's coal industry is threatened by the combination of oil-gas competition and prospective freight-rate increases, spokesmen for the Western Coal Federation said today.

While expressing confidence in the long-range future of the industry, heads of the newly-formed federation said at a press conference that the increased competition and higher transportation costs would provide stiff problems in the next few years.

The anxiety was expressed by W. C. Whittaker of Calgary, federation president, and its secretary, A. B. Conroy of Calgary, who are on an eastern trip designed to publicize the situation facing the Alberta-British Columbia producers.

The officials were not making any requests upon the government at this time, they said, though they planned to call on executives of the Dominion Coal Board.

"RATHER FLOURISHING"
Mr. Whittaker told newspapermen that the western coal industry at the moment is in "rather flourishing" condition but the impact of Alberta's new gas and oil production already is cutting into coal consumption.

Output of bituminous coal this year is up to 10 per cent, partly due to the fact that the railways—which annually buy about 2,000,000 tons—are converting to diesel operation.

He said Alberta natural gas during the past year has displaced about 2,000,000 tons of western coal.

"If the new pipelines do all it is said they will do," he added, "I suppose we will be in bad shape. However, we are not critical of the pipelines. We realize we must face the situation."

Mr. Conroy said it is expected that when the pipelines are in full operation, the coal operators' expected competition from that source will be "very formidable" much more so than from oil.

NO FEARS
"We have no fears for the long-range future of coal," Mr. Whittaker said, "but we see some difficulties in the next five or 10 years."

Most immediate problem, the two officials indicated, was in the intention of the railways to hold steeply low freight rates on Alberta coal moving to Ontario next March 31.

They said the proposed increase would, to all intents and purposes, knock out the 500,000-ton-a-year market for Alberta coal in Ontario unless some means were found to counteract it.

Since 1933, the railways have given this movement, special rates. The present rate is $8.40 a ton to Toronto, compared with the normal charge of $12.15. The railways intend to raise this by $2.35 next spring, and by the same amount again in 1952.

"The first increase would result in complete cessation of shipments to Ontario," Mr. Whittaker said.

Austria Granted Money To Buy

Voters' List Tops 1949

Total of 93,406 electors were eligible to vote in the Nov. 1 election before revisions started Tuesday.

That is 6,585 more than the 1949 total.

Of that number, 32,145 were ratepayers eligible to vote on the December city centre project agreement and various money bylaws.

That again is 3,668 more than the number of eligible taxpayers a year ago.

Total of 16,545 voters are listed as separate school supporters.

Last night's court of revision sitting set two more ratepayers for the voters' list, and three were added at Tuesday night's sitting.

WEARY CITIZENS Return Home
BATHURST, N.B., Oct. 12.—(BUP)—Weary villagers, driven from their homes by forest fires, returned today after heavy rain wrore an end to blazes that raged uncontrolled throughout New Brunswick for 12 days.

Police and Red Cross officials estimated that some 500 persons had been forced to flee at one time or another during the fires that centred around Gloucester County.

U.S. Engineer To Speak Here

Dr. Ohmer has done considerable research on the utilization of wood and wood products and his topic will be "Wood as a Chemical Raw Material."

2nd Of 4 Power Plants For North Opens Today

Second of four power plants in the far northwest will be opened today.

George Prudham, M.P., parliamentary assistant to the minister of resources and development, left by plane this morning for Fort Smith, where he will put the switch to set the power humming in the new development.

The $136,000 plant with a capacity of 576 horsepower is operated by the Northwest Territories Power Commission, its three diesel units will provide light and power for government departments, business firms and residents at Fort Smith.

Completion of this project gives encouraging evidence of the forward march of development and industry in the north country," said Mr. Prudham.

It is estimated the cost will be retired in 20 years out of earnings.

The Snare River hydroelectric power development went into operation two years ago. Tenders have been called for a hydroelectric plant at Mayo River. Another diesel plant is being built at Hay River and will be ready this year.

The power house building was erected at Fort Smith last year. Generators and 10 miles of distribution lines were set up this summer.

Prices Boosted Little By Profits

Would Not Be Lowered
Much If Profits Wiped Out

Business profits in Canada are so low that no appreciable lowering of prices would result if they were eliminated entirely, Francis G. Winspear, newly elected president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, told the Philosophical Society of the University of Alberta last night.

"Profits in Canada average 5.3 per cent on the dollar," he said. "Even if these profits were eliminated, it would make little difference in prices."

The prominent Edmonton businessman pointed out that 35 per cent of profits are returned in the form of capital investment for new equipment.

Mr. Winspear, a former professor at the university, claimed that Canada's best hopes for the future lie in enlightened free enterprise rather than in political tam.

In a spirited defence of the capitalist system, the prominent Edmonton businessman stated he had noted in his associates: "a deep sense of stewardship and social consciousness."

COMPARISON MADE: Comparing the Russian and American systems, he stated that Soviet developments since 1920 have been slower than American development from 1900 to 1920, similar periods in the economic growth of the two countries.

"To buy a pound of rice bread in the USSR requires the equivalent of 31 minutes of a workers' time," he said. "This compares with seven minutes in the U.S. To buy a bottle of beer takes two hours and 31 minutes of the Russian worker's time as compared with a quarter-minute of the American's."

The speaker defended the existence of a wealthy class, pointing out that the average citizen does not have enough money to provide capital to maintain the system.

Looming German Vote Said 'Farce' By Allies

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
BERLIN, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Germany's three Western Allied chiefs yesterday told the Russians that next Sunday's East German elections are a farce, and named the Soviets for blocking German unity. In identical letters, the three Allied high commissioners advised Gen. Vasily Chaikov, Soviet Control Commission chief, that the Communist "elections" are the direct opposite of traditional democratic processes.

The election, which offer a single list of "National Front" candidates, 70 per cent Communist, cannot be recognized either by the Western Allies or the West German Federal Republic, the letter said.

NO RECOGNITION

The Communist government scheduled to take office after Sunday's voting cannot be recognized as representing the East Germans, the letter said, adding:

"The Soviet union is committed under Potsdam . . . to the establishment of democratic government in Germany."

The Russian-sponsored elections, first since the East German Communist government took office by self-appointment last year, got another verbal stiff-arm in a report by High Commissioner John J. McCloy of the U.S.

"SOVETIZING"

McCloy warned again that Russia is "Sovetizing" East Germany to provide a springboard for expansion, and asserted that the coming elections are "a perversion of the electoral process" in which Communists have "an ironclad guarantee of unchallenged predominance."

Under the election rules people who vote "no" will be blacklisted by police guards, and abettors will be counted as "yes."

Meanwhile, Lt. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, commander of the U.S. army in Europe, told a press conference in Berlin that American soldiers "will stay here and fight it out in spite of any odds."

Tibet Invaded For 50 Miles

CALCUTTA, India, Oct. 12.—(AP)—A correspondent of the Indian newspaper Statesman reported from northern India yesterday that China Communists invaded Tibet across her eastern border and . . . a "distance of 50 miles against some opposition."

This report, from the newspaper's correspondent in the northern Bengal town of Kailashpur in the Himalaya mountains, said the Tibetans regarded the attack as a preliminary probe "for a main effort to be developed as soon as the Chinese-Thibetians take now going on in Peking have collapsed."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have noticed real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just replace a little FANTETTE, the all-time (non-ads) powder, on your plate, inside false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Show not afraid. Screw and Bolt Man, at Heart

Let's spin the sports sphere: Ekimov's popular defensive act, Bob Parrish, would like nothing better than to go back home one day to Redwood Falls, Minnesota, and open up a hardware business on his own.

Amateur light man Alf Tansley has a card in the game for Oct. 27. The Fighting Wreman certainly does his share and more to keep the situation alive in these parts.

Ex-Player specialist Johnny Black had to pass up the opening game on Vancouver Canucks' Pacific Coast Hockey league schedule when his gimpy knee started to act up. . . Black, who sat it out in yellowknife last season, had been burning up the Nanaimo training camp of the Canucks and coach Bill "Scraper" McLean to handle Coast League opponents like he owed them.

Add signs of trouble: After this season has been broken out of the wrapper at the Recreation commission building.

Former Lethbridge leader of winger Stan Maxwell made a good impression in Montreal's Canadiens camp, although chances are all against him catching a place with the National league club. . . More than likely Maxwell, who played junior for Frank Drotos at Seattle last year, will be shipped to Lethbridge Goldworthy's Buffalo Bisons, a Montreal farm.

Attention "Anti-professional": "the hold", as you call it, Boston Bruins have on Flyer goalie, who is a Barry Cousens of a 19 form, is signed with the Bruins. . . Prediction: When Ted Reeve's all-Canadians are announced, Toronto Argos' "Buckles" Hirsch will have the contract, and they'll persist in calling it in the east—look for his own.

Several Edmonton juniors, notably "Duke" Edmondson and Jack McDonald, are reported to have headed off to Regina a few days back, despite the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association ruling barring such moves until it's definite—one way or the other—whether Edmonton is to have a junior "A" team.

Add slightly off-season dept.: "Curly" Currell, president of the Edmonton Golf Association, is a great booster for Jasper Park's annual Totem Pole tournament.

If it's a jockey-tyde sports personality you're looking for, don't go past the "stompy" rider, the stormy petrel hockey who finally has made his peace with Toronto Maple Leafs. Ekinov is also a top-flight golfer, when he is as polite and mild as an individual as you'd find in a week of searching. . . Alberta's Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has elevated Edmondson's C. W. (Red) McNeill to the presidency. Longtime secretary, R. W. Bellamy, Athabasca, continues in office.

Portrait of a man who announced his retirement from hockey and made it stick: Bob Carse, who turned in his Cleveland Barons' gear last spring with the announcement that he was "hanging in" for keeps. That's what the man said, that's what the man meant.

Steve Wittke, scheduled to open at right wing for Flyers at the Gardens tomorrow night, is carried on the reserve list of the Milwaukee entry in the United States circuit. . . Ditto Regina's Bev Bentley and Marsh Severn, last named a Wetaskiwin boy who has an even bigger yen to be a major league pitcher.

Winger Bill Ramsden, who's come this way shortly with Regina Caps, was a junior junior at Lethbridge a couple of seasons back. . . Prof. Maury Van Vleet ran off several basketballers in the United States circuit. . . "Dutchy" Van Deelen has had his option "C" form renewed by New York Rangers, likely will draw his pay-checks from New York Rangers from now until spring.

Nutshell Winnipeg Blue Bombers' powerful line (the quotes belong to Jim Qandamattro, hardrock Ekimov shock-trooper). . . "Just thinking about that line hurts." The burly ex-Montreal Alouette also is on record that Lindy Berry is the best passer he ever saw. This is quite a pity, considering that Elin' Frank Pilchcock was a teammate on Alouettes, and Berry was a teammate on the team.

Attention Harvey (Pug) Young: keep in shape, boy. You never can tell, especially if Flyers get away squiggly.

MIDLEGROUND FRACTURES ANKLE

Kentucky Derby King Forced to Abdicate

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—The racing career of Middleground appeared ended yesterday after the winner of this year's Kentucky Derby pulled up lame in a workout at Belmont Park yesterday.

"Chances are a thousand to one against him ever racing again," said his saddened trainer, Mr. Hirsch, as he looked at Middleground lying down in his stall.

Hirsch said X-rays showed two fractures of the ankle bone of the right leg.

"We'll probably be able to save him but that's about all," he said. When he recovers and is able to be sent to the farm for stud purposes.

Middleground won only two races in 19 starts this year but they were major three-year-old classics—the Derby and Belmont stakes. The King Ranch colt finished the triple crown by finishing second to Hill Prince in the Preakness.

The greatest son of Bold Venture was out for a workout when the accident happened. Injury was so serious Middleground had to be removed to his barn in an ambulance.

Bill Boland, an apprentice rider, was up for the workout. Later, Boland said he heard a "pop" when Middleground suddenly broke down and pulled up lame.

Middleground has since Sept. 20 when he ran in the Jerome Handicap and wound up third behind Hill Prince, now the generally recognized three-year-old champion.

As a two-year-old, Middleground won four of five starts, including the Hopeful Stakes, and $54,225. He was retired for the year after the Preakness when it appeared he might develop

Green-and-Gold Fairly Fit For Saturday Skirmishing

By Dick Bellows

Ekimov coach Allan Stukus had a heavy head last night. There was a reason for this: He had something on his mind.

The problem confronting him in the immediate future, which is to say 48 hours from now, is how to lay Calgary Stampede's skinkers. He has accomplished that task four straight times thus far, but the crumbled Calgary skinkers have given him a hard time. They are too good of the pace now.

A double victory over the Californians will assure Edmondson of second place in the final standing, and if Ekimov knocks out Winnipeg, twice in their three remaining contests, Ekimov could wind up first.

Stukus released yesterday by league secretary Bob Gillies said the former Los Angeles Dons end has 31 points after tallying 19 points last week-end. All but 10 of his points have been scored kicking.

Aguirre's week-end spurs enabled him to pass last week's leader, Mike King, Edmonton Eskimos fullback. King now is second with 45 points.

One point behind King is quarterback Jack Hartman of the Saskatchewan Roughriders. Most of his points came on placekicks and conversions.

King has the most touchdowns, nine—more than Winnipeg's Tom Casey, who holds down fourth place with 41 points.

In fifth place is Riders' halfback Al Bodine with 36 points, while Edmondson's playing coach, Annie Stukus, is next with 35 points, 25 of them by conversions.

For seventh spot, see Royal Copeland of Calgary Stampede and Tommy Ford of Winnipeg, each with 34 touchdowns for 30 points.

Vern Graham of Calgary, with 25 points and 16 touchdowns of Riders, with 22, round out the top 10.

Port Arthur 'Cats Fold

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 12 (CP)—Senior hockey is a dead duck at the Lakeshore.

Port Arthur Bears, one of the oldest senior clubs in the Dominion and winners of four Allan Cup championships, aren't expected to play this season.

For years, a combination of circumstances has been slowly smothering the senior game in this area. In 1940-50 the Sports-Raiders club collapsed. That was the writing on the wall for Bears, who were later eliminated from the Allan Cup play by Fort Frances Canadians, district champions for three straight years.

Ivy, Cactus Replace Indian Rubber Plant

By Bea Thrift

Dame Fashion's greener executive announced today that styles in house plants change too.

Evidently house plants has reached the stage where a house plant must fit into the general decorating scheme of things.

"We used to think the era of the Indian rubber plant is over. . . . Homemakers now prefer such greenery as philodendron.

And I must confess I really do to.

English ivy and a terrific assortment of cactus come in for a fair share of praise too.

But the heavy philodendron (I call it rudy-dum-dum for some mysterious reason) is queen of them all at present.

A recent arrival in local florist shops . . . and in some department stores . . . is a little feathery, fern-type plant which looks on air.

I wish I could throw on air as luxuriously as does this pretty little pointed plant.

An interesting tid-bit about home care of plants is that over-watering is far more dangerous than under-watering.

I asked a be-whiskered gardener-friend of mine to give me a few gems of info about the business of plant care.

And here's what the good man said:

"House plants need a good soaking when watered. You can't get rid of fungus. The best bet is to give your plants a thorough soaking whenever the dirt looks dry."

"Use water at room temperature . . . and never, never, never use it directly from the tap."

"All plants need drainage. Otherwise, water in the bottom of the container starts the roots deteriorating. Mind you, an exception is the growth of ivy, philodendron or other plants which will thrive in water . . . with addition of a little plant food."

"Cactus needs gravel, sand and cinders added to the soil or the roots will begin to rot within hours after watering."

"Cactus also needs plenty of sunshine . . . but remember to keep it from contact with the window-pane in winter-time . . . or the leaves will freeze and die."

There . . . now you're just as wise as I was can can be!

Even I have a little something to lose into the pot today and that's a bit of sweet potato. Guess how. Seems if you'll cut a piece of a sweet potato and submerge it in water . . . a lovely red-velvet green leafy plant will grow.

You just try it!

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Couple With Children Make Best of Marriage

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I married when we were boy and girl.

Now twelve years later we find that we have outgrown our youthful passion, that we are completely out of love with each other and that there is little congeniality between us.

Neither one of us would now select the other for a mate. If we had only ourselves to consider we would not hesitate to part, but we have two splendid children who are fast coming to the age when they must need a home and a mother and a father, and we do not feel that we have a right to take our happiness at their expense. Besides, we both adore our children.

Can two people situated as we are make even a near success of marriage?

ANSWER: Undoubtedly you can. Intelligence is just as much a factor in making a successful marriage as love is.

Perhaps, indeed, it goes farther in making a happy marriage that love does because the more emotional a man and woman are the more prone are they to jealousies and quarrels and unreasons and the various temperamental qualities that are thrilling at moments, but unaccountable for daily companionship.

WHAT THEY WON'T DO to our figures with those enticing menus these days

WHY GROW OLD

Worthwhile to Resist Weight-Adding Rich Food

By Josephine Lowman

The other night my husband and I were having dinner at a restaurant which had wonderful food.

He was making suggestions. They ran something like this: "Vichyssoise, broiled swordfish with anchovies, lobster Newburg, sweetbreads and Capon, onion soup au gratin, and so forth."

I said, "I am faced with a horrible situation." He said, from across the table, "You mean me?" Of course what I meant was, which to order when everything sounded so out of this world.

Whenever I am in contact with delicious food, I always think it is no wonder that women have such difficulty sticking to a diet.

"With so much good food about, with business expanding opportunities in terms of marvelous foods and enticing sauces and flavors, the most determined self-discipline sometimes weakens."

IT'S A PLEASURE When one has good health, good digestion and good appetite, it is a pleasure even to eat every-day foods. Nothing is better than good and combined. Boston baked beans and codfish balls, fried shrimp, and black bean soup.

Yet even the simplest foods are best when well-flavored with butter and salt. Our palates have become accustomed to this, and unfortunately, the trimmings and sauces and butter and pastries are high in caloric count.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Your Baby Hasn't Any Temper, Nervousness

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Just as soon as the baby is safely home from the hospital the young parents begin to interpret the baby's behavior.

If he cries and his face grows red, they may jump to the conclusion that he has a temper.

Don't believe it. This is the way babies act. And he doesn't look angry because they frighten him and he'll always get red when the cries and he'll cry hard when he is hungry.

The new baby is just a bundle of reflexes. He cries when he is hungry, in pain, cold, uncomfortable or just in need of company.

He can't move about at will, so Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of should he may years to change this newspaper.

His position and so he cries and then someone comes and picks him up. (Revised by The Register and then someone comes and picks him up. Tribune Syndicate, 1960).

Canada's Liquor Record Is Highest

Women's Missionary Rally Reports Show Trends in World Christianity

Canada has the poorest record of prohibition and India the best, reported Mrs. W. W. McBain at the recent twenty-fifth anniversary rally of the Women's Missionary Society in Central United Church.

"It is gratifying to find," said Mrs. McBain, "that in almost complete prohibition, India follows the teachings of the late Mahatma, Gandhi and from upon alcohol."

More than 1,000 people representing 40 nations were welcomed to the rally by WMS president Mrs. Freda O'Neill.
